THE BASES AND OBJECTIVE OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE FUND, INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

THE BASES FOR THE ACTIVITIES OF THE FUND

The Fund is a pool of money raised through public issue of Units, and of other assets acquired from investing this money that belongs jointly to the Fund's unit-holders and that is managed by the Management Company. The bases of the Fund's activities and the relations between unit-holders and the Management Company have been laid down in the legislation of the Republic of Estonia and the Rules.

THE OBJECTIVE OF THE FUND'S ACTIVITIES

The objective of the Fund is to invest primarily in equity instruments of Emerging Europe companies with the purpose of long term capital growth. The description of risks related to investing into the Fund is available in the section "Risks" of this Prospectus.

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

Investment Region and Authorised Instruments

The Management Company shall invest at least 60% of the Fund's assets into equity instruments of Emerging Europe companies. The investment region encompasses the following countries: Hungary, Poland, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Croatia, Romania, Bulgaria, Macedonia, Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Serbia, Montenegro, Turkey, Moldova, Ukraine, Greece and the European countries who are part of MSCI Emerging Markets and Frontier Markets index, excluding Russia. Emerging Europe company is defined as a company who has its registered office in an Emerging Europe country, or has substantial business interests in Emerging Europe countries, or whose securities are issued in the currencies of Emerging Europe countries, or listed in the regulated markets of Emerging Europe countries. Substantial business interest shall be considered if more than 40% of the company's turnover, cost base, number of employees, operating profit or net profit is derived from Emerging Europe countries.

Equity instruments shall include shares, other similar tradable rights, and tradable depositary receipts, financial instruments the return of which is linked to an equity instrument, subscription rights and other rights that entitle to acquire equity instruments. In addition to equity instruments, up to 40% the Fund's net assets may be invested in other securities (including units of other investment funds), derivative instruments and deposits of credit institutions.

There are no restrictions regarding the type of issuers when investing the assets of the Fund. The Management Company does not follow a sector approach when investing the Fund's assets. The precise allocation of the Fund's investments between asset classes, types of issuers, regions and sectors shall be determined by the Management Company as part of its investment management activities.

Transactions with Derivative Instruments

The Fund's assets may be invested in derivative instruments for the purpose of hedging risks as well as for the purpose of achieving the Fund's investment objectives. The Fund's total exposure relating to derivative instruments may not exceed the total net asset value of the Fund. According to the judgement of the Management Company, investing into derivative instruments does not significantly increase the Fund's risk level because derivative instruments are mostly used for hedging risks. Upon investment of the Fund's assets in derivative instruments the Fund shall not take short positions, except in relation to foreign currencies. Detailed information about the authorised underlying assets for derivatives are provided in the Rules.

Other Authorised Transactions

The Management Company may on behalf of the Fund guarantee issues of securities, borrow, enter into repurchase and reverse repurchase agreements and make other transactions of borrowing and lending securities and conclude derivative transactions complying with limitations set out in the applicable legislation. The Fund may borrow and assume other liabilities referred to above in the amount of up to 10% of the Fund's net assets. The maturity of the loans and other liabilities assumed on behalf of the Fund may not be longer than three months. It is not allowed to grant out loans on behalf of the Fund.

Diversification of Investments

The value of securities issued by one single issuer may not exceed 10% of the market value of the Fund's net assets. The total value of all securities of issuers in each of which the Fund invests more than 5% of the net asset value of its assets may not exceed 40% of the net asset value of the Fund's assets. The aggregate value of securities issued by issuers belonging to the same group may not exceed 20% of the market value of the Fund's net assets.

Up to 10% of the net asset value of the Fund may be invested in shares and units of other investment funds except closed-end investment funds, in the case of which restrictions applicable to investments into securities apply, subject to the restrictions provided in the applicable legislation.

The investment policy and restriction of the Fund are further regulated in the Rules.

Short Overview of Investment and Risk Management Techniques

The Fund Management Company deploys value investing and stock-picking investment style with focus on company-specific, sector and macro analysis. Company analysis is focused on quantitative screening, qualitative analysis and valuation work. During quantitative phase we conduct analysis of company liquidity and basic financial statements. Should the company fulfil our criteria, we will interview the management during qualitative analysis phase. During a management interview we study, among other things, the company's business model, strategy, growth prospects, transparency, dividend policy and compliance to UN Principles for Responsible Investing. If a company has successfully passed the qualitative phase, the Management Company develops a financial model on the company and determines its target price. Companies with highest upside to target price adjusted to liquidity, transparency, business model cyclicality and other risk parameters are invested in.

Portfolio liquidity analysis and diversification among sectors, countries, currencies and instruments are the main risk management tools used. In addition, the Management Company may use derivatives to hedge or take directional exposure in currencies. The Management Company actively follows financial results of portfolio and target companies and makes relevant changes in the Fund portfolio based on companies' upside to target prices and its view on macroeconomic trends.

Though the Management Company aims for a long term capital growth, this does not mean that all investments in the Fund are always made for long-term. The Fund's investment universe comprises of emerging and dynamic economies with highly volatile stock markets. Should a company's share price exceed its target price, the Management Company would exit the position, irrespective of its intended investment horizon.

The Management Company has established procedures for internal risk management in order to identify, monitor, measure and hedge the risks associated to the Fund's investments. The Management Company regularly examines that the Fund is in compliance with its investment restrictions.

Should the Fund's portfolio become in breach with its investment restrictions or diversification principles due to share price movements or other circumstances, the Management Company is entitled to immediately take remedial actions to cure such breaches.

PAST PERFORMANCE OF THE FUND

Past performance is not a guarantee or indicative of future results.*

RISKS

GENERAL RISK WARNING

Various risks that may affect the return from the investment are related to investing into the Fund. The activities of the Fund may or may not be profitable. There is no guarantee to unit-holders that they will get back the amount initially invested in the Fund or that it will increase. In case the risk factors materialise, it is possible that the investor will lose a substantial part of the investment in the Fund. Due to the Fund's investment policy, the net asset value of a Unit may be highly volatile. Past performance of the Fund is not a guarantee or indicative of future results.

RISK WARNING RELATED TO EMERGING MARKETS

The assets of the Fund shall be fully invested in financial instruments of Emerging Europe countries. The legal, political and economic infrastructure of emerging countries is still at an early stage of development. In such countries it is more likely that social, economic or political instability will occur. As a result, investing in the Emerging Europe region is accompanied by higher risks compared to investing in developed markets. Investors of the Fund should accept that the positive developments and successful reforms that have taken place in some countries may not necessarily happen also in other countries. The market capitalisation of Emerging Europe markets is relatively small. These markets are often volatile and have low liquidity. The currency exchange rates of the investment region may substantially fluctuate against the Fund's reference currency and this may have a significant impact on the Unit's net asset value. The Management Company does not generally hedge foreign currency exchange rate risks. Countries may impose restrictions on capital flows as well as currency export restrictions. This may result in difficulties for the Fund in drawing sales proceeds and may harm the ability of the Fund to redeem Units regularly. Financial supervision may be ineffective in the countries of the investment region. The accounting, auditing and reporting standards accepted in the Emerging Europe countries may not be equivalent to the standards accepted in developed markets. The systems for settlement and registering of securities and the regulations applicable to and supervision of settlement bodies, registrars and custodians may not be up to the standards assumed in developed markets.

RISK LEVEL OF THE FUND

The assets of the Fund shall be invested in financial instruments of emerging countries. The largest part of the Fund's assets is made up of equity securities. Therefore, the Fund is considered a high risk investment product.

PROFILE OF TYPICAL INVESTOR

The Fund is suitable to an investor with high risk tolerance who seeks long-term capital growth through investing into the equity markets of the Emerging Europe region. The investor should acknowledge that there is no guarantee that the capital invested into the Fund will be preserved or that it will grow.

The recommended investment horizon is 5-10 years and the investor and investor's financial position should be able to tolerate substantial volatility in the net asset value of the Unit during this period. The investor should have prior experience in investing into investment products or knowledge of the functioning of the financial markets.

Being regional equity fund investing into emerging markets, the Fund is suitable as one constituent of a diversified investment portfolio. Each investor is required to independently evaluate the risks related to investing in the Fund and the effects and possible consequences of such risks in the light of the investor's investment experience and knowledge as well as the investor's financial and economic circumstances, and the time period and the objectives of the investment. The Management Company recommends that potential investors consult with a professional investment advisor before making the decision to invest.

OVERVIEW OF MAJOR RISK FACTORS RELATED TO THE INVESTMENT

Various risks relate to investing into the Fund. Such risks may have a negative effect on the outcome of the investment. A list of risks that could influence the return on the investment into the Fund and what we think is important has been presented below. Additional risks entail with the investment and have been discussed in other parts of the Prospectus or not explicitly addressed in the Prospectus, therefore the list of risks is not comprehensive. Investment risks shall be borne by the unit-holder. When investing into Emerging Europe markets, the investor should take into account that any risk factor listed below is more likely to materialise as compared to investing into developed markets.

Taking into account the investment objectives and investment policy of the Fund, the most critical risks that are most likely to have an impact on the market value of the assets of the Fund include market risk, issuer's price risk, liquidity risk, foreign currency risk, political risk and the risk arising from the concentration of asset classes or markets. In addition to the abovementioned risks, other risks as described below are related to investing in the Fund.

Benchmark risk – Management Company is not seeking to meet Emerging Europe region benchmark. Instead the Management Company deploys value investing and stock-picking investment style by investing the Fund's assets into companies with the highest upside to target price. Therefore, Fund's return may differ substantially from the return of Emerging Europe region indices.

Political risk – the risk that unfavourable trends or (political) events (e.g. changes in economic policy or legal environment, nationalisations, riots, war) take place in a country where the Fund's assets have been invested that affect the country's political or economic stability or future development thereby causing the loss of the Fund's investments in the country or diminishing the value of such investments.

Market risk – the risk of suffering losses due to adverse price movements at a specific securities market or at a market for other assets. Adverse price movements may be caused by a country's weak macroeconomic data, poor financial results of a specific sector, unstable securities market, investor behaviour as well as psychology and other factors. Market risk is managed by diversifying the Fund's investments between various regions, markets and sectors.

Issuer-specific price risk – price risk is closely related to market risk but mainly affects a specific security or investment. Price risk is the risk of suffering losses due to adverse price movements of a specific stock or another investment. The price of an issuer's securities is affected by developments in the issuer's financial results, changes in competitive environment, analyst estimates and commentaries, etc. Issuer-specific price risk is managed mainly thorough research and continuous monitoring of the issuer.

Foreign currency risk – the risk that the value of an investment denominated in a foreign currency changes in an adverse direction in relation to the Fund's reference currency due to fluctuations in exchange rates. To secure the Fund's assets against adverse change in the exchange rates of the currency, the Fund, from time-to time, may hedge currency risk through foreign exchange spot transactions or currency exchange (forex) derivative contracts. On the other hand, the mentioned contracts may reduce the potential gain that the favourable change of the exchange rates may provide.

Credit risk – the risk that the issuer of securities where the Fund has invested in or the counterparty to a securities transaction of the Fund fails to perform its obligations either fully or partially, a counterparty to a trade does not deliver securities or cash during the settlement and causes damage to the Fund. In order to diminish the credit risk, the Fund's investments are diversified between various issuers which shall be researched prior to the investment and monitored thoroughly during the investment.

Interest rate risk – the risk that interest rates, yield curves or volatility of interest rates change in an adverse direction for the Fund.

Liquidity risk – the risk that a financial instrument cannot be sold due to low liquidity or lack of liquidity at the time desired or at a reasonable price, or that it is not possible to sell the asset at all. Liquidity risk is particularly relevant in case of investing into small cap companies and in instruments not traded on a regulated securities market. In order to diminish the liquidity risk, the Fund's investments are diversified between various issuers or regions. The Fund's liquidity risk is influenced by the actions of investors as large redemption and conversion orders might create a situation where the Fund is forced to sell some positions that it would otherwise maintain or has to suspend redemption of the Units for a certain period.

The risk arising from the concentration of asset classes or markets – the risk that a particular event or circumstance shall have a pervasive effect on the Fund's return because the Fund's investments are concentrated on one or a small number of markets, a specific asset class or a small number of issuers.

Risk of investing in small cap companies – the Fund may invest in small and mid cap companies with highly volatile stock prices. These stocks may have lower liquidity and be more impacted by the changes of economics compared to large cap companies. Small cap companies have greater risk level due to light management teams, company resources and weak public information. Bid-ask spread of small cap companies is significantly higher compared to the large cap companies.

Risk of investing in funds – risk that investing the Fund's assets in investment funds, which in turn invest their assets in other funds (fund of funds), the corresponding management fees and other charges may exceed the expenses if the Fund would have invested directly in the corresponding instruments. In addition, the Management Company is not always able to completely monitor the activity of investment funds where the funds have invested, since such investment funds may use investment strategies, which are not comprehensively disclosed to the Management Company, or contain risks in certain market situations, which are not envisioned by the Management Company. Furthermore, the risk associated with valuation of the assets arises when investing in other investment funds as the Management Company may not be able to monitor the price of every single component affecting the net asset value of the investment fund.

Legal risk – the risk that the Fund suffers losses or that penalties are imposed on the Fund due to the possibility that the Management Company does not have a sufficient knowledge of the legislation and its statutory obligations that are applied in the target countries of the Fund's investments. Additionally, amendments in legislation after the investment has been made could result in restrictions for the Fund's activities or create obligations for the Fund.

Settlement system risk – the risk that the non-performance of securities depositaries, stock exchanges, market places, clearing houses or other counterparties could cause losses for the Fund due to failed trades, delayed settlement, mistakes in recorded transactions etc. To manage the settlement system risk, the Fund trades only on regulated markets via brokers who are approved by the Management Board.

Tax risk – a tax could be imposed on the Fund's profit and withholding taxes could be applied on income received by the Fund in the Republic of Estonia or in other countries where the Fund's assets have been invested.

Depositary/custody risk – the risk that the Fund suffers losses due to actions or omissions or bankruptcy of the Depositary, sub-custodians or local depositaries. Such losses may include losses due to the bankruptcy of a person holding securities, the person losing securities or its inability to fulfil orders. To manage such risk, a depositary/custodian shall be selected thoroughly and its activities in provision of services monitored on a regular basis.

The risk related to valuing the assets of the Fund – the assets of the Fund may be invested in securities with low liquidity and in securities that are not traded on regulated markets. For such securities, a valid market price may not be available. Determining the fair value of such assets may be complex and depends on assessments made by the Management Company. The price of such financial instruments used in NAV calculation may be substantially different from a later market transaction price that may lead to significant downward adjustment of the price of the financial instrument and a sizeable change in the net asset value of the Fund.

Registrar risk – the risk of suffering losses due to actions or omissions of the registrar of Units (e.g. due to failed trades arising from technical faults, delayed settlement, erroneous transaction, unauthorised disclosure of confidential information etc.).

Risk associated with conflict of interests – in addition to the Fund, the Management Company manages other funds and client portfolios with potentially conflicting interests during certain period of time. Management Company has established internal rules and policies to effectively avoid and/or adequately manage potential conflict of interests, and shall adhere to such policies and procedures.

Fund fees – Fund management fees and expenses are paid on behalf of the Fund, of whether the Fund performs or underperforms. This influences the Fund's performance. The Management Company has set the limits for the fees and expenses paid by the Fund to protect the unit-holders interests. Management fee is based on fixed rate and performance fee, which aims to align the Management Company's and unit-holders' interests by linking the management fee partially with the performance of Fund's investments.

Key personnel related risk – the Fund's performance depends on investment managers and other key personnel actions and experiences. The Management Company might experience negative impact when key employees leave. The Management Company aims to guarantee competitive and motivating working conditions to its managers and employees. Investment Managers are indirect owners of the Management Company and thus incentivised directly by the performance and pay-out capability of the Management Company. Compensation package of other key employees is also related to the performance of the Management Company in compliance with the limitations set out in applicable legislation.

Materialisation of the above mentioned risks may significantly influence the Fund's profitability and Unit price. In addition to customary investment risks, investors have to take into account the possibility of changes taking place in the governance of the Fund. Such changes could have a significant impact on an investment in the Fund. For example, redemption of Units may be suspended based on the terms and conditions set out in the Rules and in legislation; the Fund could be reorganised, merged with another investment fund or liquidated. Additionally, the fees and expenses payable on account of the Fund or the unit-holder may be changed; the Rules may be substantially amended, etc. Some of the abovementioned events may take place without giving prior notice to the unit-holder. Fund performance is not guaranteed by the Management Company and the value of the Unit may increase as well decrease, in time.

RISKS RELATED TO DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

The Management Company may invest the Fund's assets in derivative instruments for the purpose of hedging risks as well as for the purpose of achieving the Fund's investment objectives. The market value of a derivative instrument depends on the price or value of another underlying asset (e.g. share, stock index, foreign exchange rate). Using derivative instruments entails leverage, i.e. a small change in the price of the underlying asset may lead to a large change in the price of the derivative instrument. Therefore, an investment in derivative instruments leads to relatively larger profit or larger loss (higher risk) compared to a similar investment in the underlying asset. In case of certain derivative instruments, the potential loss is larger than the initial investment made. Since the value of the derivative instrument depends on the price of the underlying asset, the derivative instrument is subject to the same risks as the underlying. In addition, counterparty risk, interest rate risk and changes in the volatility of the underlying asset affect the value of the derivative. In order to determine the value of the derivative, complex valuation models are often used. Thus, investing in derivatives is also accompanied by valuation risk.

RISKS RELATED TO SECURITIES NOT TRADED ON REGULATED MARKETS

Part of the assets of the Fund may be invested in securities not traded on regulated securities markets. In addition to ordinary investment risks, such investments entail higher liquidity risk and higher risk related to valuation of such assets.

UNIT OF THE FUND

UNIT

Fund assets belong jointly to the unit holders. A Unit represents the unit-holder's share in the assets of the Fund. A Unit is electronically registered security, which represents a unit holder's share in the assets of the Fund. The Fund has five classes of Units:

- Avaron Emerging Europe Fund A, nominal value 6.39 EUR, launched April 23, 2007 (hereafter "A Unit"),

- Avaron Emerging Europe Fund B, nominal value 6.39 EUR, launched April 23, 2007 (hereafter "B Unit"),
- Avaron Emerging Europe Fund C, nominal value 10 EUR, launched September 8, 2009 (hereafter "C Unit"),
- Avaron Emerging Europe Fund D, nominal value 10 EUR, launched September 27, 2010 (hereafter "D Unit"),
- Avaron Emerging Europe Fund E, nominal value 10 EUR, launched October 25, 2010 (hereafter "E Unit").

RIGHTS ATTACHED TO UNITS

The right of ownership of a Unit and the rights and obligations of a unit-holder and of the Management Company attached to the Unit shall enter into force and end when a relevant entry is made in the register of Units.

A Unit does not grant to the unit-holder the right to make decisions regarding the transactions made on behalf of the Fund. No unit-holder is entitled to demand termination of the Fund. A unit-holder has the following rights: to demand that the Management Company to redeem the Units held by the unit-holder pursuant to the provisions of the Rules and applicable legislation; to transfer Units held by the unit-holder to third parties without prior notification to the Management Company; to receive, pursuant to the Rules, a share of the assets remaining upon liquidation of the Fund and of any distributions made from the Fund in proportion to the number of Units and the class of Units held by the unit-holder; to access at the location of the Management Company the Rules, the Fund's most recent annual or semi-annual report, the Prospectus, the key investor information document and other documents and information regarding the activities of the Fund, Management Company and Depositary as provided for in the legislation; to demand a statement from the Registrar about the Units held in the registry by the unit-holder; to perform other acts prescribed by legislation or the Rules.

OBLIGATIONS ATTACHED TO UNITS AND LIABILITY RESTRICTION

A unit-holder must exercise the rights attached to a Unit in good faith and in accordance with legislation and the Rules. A unit-holder shall not exercise his rights with the purpose of causing damage to other unit-holders, the Management Company, the Depositary or to any third party. A unit-holder is not personally liable for the obligations of the Fund assumed by the Management Company, or for the performance of obligations which the Management Company has the right to demand from the Fund pursuant to the Rules. A unit-holder's liability for performance of such obligations is limited to his share of the Fund's assets. The Management Company shall not assume obligations on behalf of unit-holders. A claim against a unit-holder may be satisfied out of the Units belonging to such unit-holder, but not out of the assets of the Fund.

The Fund's governance structure does not include a general meeting of unit-holders, and therefore a Unit does not grant any voting rights to unit-holders and unit-holders are not entitled to participate in the management of the Fund through general meeting of unit-holders.

TAXATION

According to the legislation of Estonia, the Fund is not a taxable person and does not therefore pay taxes in Estonia. Depending on the tax systems of the countries where the assets of the Fund are invested, the Fund could be liable to pay taxes in these countries.

If a unit-holder is a taxable person, gains from Units may be taxable. The Management Company does not withhold any taxes on gains earned from Units. Declaring such gains in the tax declaration of accounting period is an obligation of a unit-holder. The tax system applicable to an investor may depend on the investor's residence for tax purposes, legal set-up and other circumstances. Investors are advised to consult a professional tax advisor for potential tax liabilities.

NET ASSET VALUE OF THE UNIT AND TRANSACTIONS WITH UNITS

NET ASSET VALUE OF THE FUND AND UNIT

The net asset value of the Fund and of a Unit depends on the income or loss from the Fund's activities. The income of the Fund shall not be distributed to unit-holders but shall be reinvested. Unit-holders' profit or loss shall be reflected in the changes of a Unit's net asset value.

In order to determine the net asset value of the Fund, the value of the liabilities of the Fund is deducted from the value of the assets of the Fund. The value of the assets of the Fund is determined primarily based on their market value. If market value cannot be established, the value of the assets of the Fund is determined based on another method for establishing fair value as set out in the applicable internal rules. The total net asset value of a class of Units shall be determined by deducting the value of the liabilities of the Fund attributable to that class of the Unit from the value of the Fund's assets attributable based on pro rata principle to that class of Units.

The net asset value of a Unit is determined by dividing the total net asset value of a class of Units by the number of Units of that class that has been issued and not redeemed (adjusted by the number of Units from unsettled subscription and redemption orders that have been received by the Management Company). A Unit's net asset value, issue and redemption price shall be rounded up to four decimal points.

The Management Company has inter alia outsourced the fund administration function in relation to the Funds' assets and determining the Funds' and Unit's net asset value and Unit's redemption and subscription price and Funds' accounting to Swedbank AS (Fund Administrator). In order to make transactions with Units, the investor shall have a securities account and a corresponding cash account in Swedbank AS or with the consent of the Management Company a registry account for institutional investor in Swedbank AS.

An investor can open a segregated account on its own name or agree with a third party (e.g. distributor of Units) on keeping the Units on a nominee account opened in the name of such third party. If units are kept on a nominee account, the owner of the nominee account shall submit orders for transactions on the nominee account. Transfers of securities and payments of cash shall be made to the nominee account and to the cash account of the owner of the nominee account. The transfers and payments to the investor's account shall be executed by the owner of the nominee account according to agreements with the investor.

A unit shall be issued only upon a monetary payment and upon redemption of units only monetary payments in euros shall be made. Units are issued, redeemed and can be converted on every banking day. The day of receiving the order for making a transaction with Units shall be hereafter referred to as the "Trade Date".

If a single unit-holder submits a redemption and/or conversion order or orders that result in redemption of Units on the same Trade Date in the amount exceeding 5% of the net asset value of the Fund, the Management Company has the right (but not an obligation) to split the redemption and/or conversion orders and apply special principles for determining the Trade Date of such orders. 10 banking days (T+10), taking into account the order of the receipt of such redemption and conversion requests. The payment of the postponed orders shall take place in the sequence of the receipt of orders. Postponing the payment date of the orders does not affect the settlement of the redemption and/or conversion orders received on the following days, unless the conditions for postponement of the payment date provided in this section are met for such orders. The Management Company shall notify the unit-holders affected by the postponement of the payment date and publish a notice on its Website.

A unit-holder is not entitled to demand fine for delay, penalty, indemnification or use any other legal remedies and the Management Company is not liable for any potential damages that might occur due to splitting of orders into parts, postponing the Trade Date or payment date of the orders as described above.

By submitting a subscription order, an investor confirms that he or she has sufficiently acquainted himself or herself with the Rules, accepts the Rules and shall act in accordance with the Rules. An investor is not permitted to revoke or make changes to a subscription, redemption or conversion order after submitting it.
